SPIKES!! SPIKES!!

THE subscribers Agents for the Troy Iron and Nail Factory have constantly for sale a complete assortment of BURDEN'S PATENT IMPROVED SHIP AND BOAT SPIKES AND DECK NAILS, of all sizes from 3 to 10 inches These Spikes are made in a Machine, from the best of Iron. They are uniform in appearance very tough and their adhesive qualities are much greater than any hammered Spike. They can be drove into most kinds of wood without boring The great demand for these spikes within a few years, for Rail Roads and other purposes, and the general satisfaction they have given is sufficient proof of their superiority over all others. The price is also less than for other spikes, which is another inducement for those who use the article to purchase these.

HARRISON'S PERISTALTIC LOZENGES;

AN APPROVED REMEDY FOR COSTIVENESS AND DYSPEPSIA.

THIS medicine is not put forth as a universal nostrum, calculated to cure all the diseases incident to humanity, but rather as a means of preventing them It may safely be stated that nine tenths of the most serious maladies arise from an unhealthy action of the stomach and bowels or liver, inducing as a natural consequence indigestion and its results; such as head ache, acidity of the stomach, heart burn, flatulency, nausea, lowness of spirits jaundice and a whole catalogue of other complaints, which may be entirely removed by a timely and persevering use of this remedy.

The most cogent objection to Aperients in general is, that containing some drastic purgative, they leave, after their operation has ceased, a torpidity of the stomach and bowels producing consequences which their administration was intended to correct Such effects will not follow the use of these Lozenges

TO FEMALES IN DELICATE HEALTH

The Peristaltic Lozenges are strongly recommended to the notice of every Lady, having obtained the sanction and approbation of several eminent gentlemen of the Medical Profession, as a safe and valuable medicine in removing obstructions and relieving all other inconveniences to which the female frame is liable, especially those which arise at an early period of life, from want of exercise and general debility of the system They create an appetite, correct indigestion, remove giddiness and nervous-head ache, and are eminently useful in windy disorders, pains in the stomach shortness of breath and palpitation of the heart Being perfectly innocent, they can be taken at any time and under any circumstances The most delicate female, when an aperient is required may have recourse to them, and they will act as a preventive against those nervous and hysterical affections which so frequently arise from continued constipation.

TO SEAFARING PEOPLE AND TRAVELLERS GENERALLY.

To individuals travelling, more particularly seafaring persons, when from change of habit or climate, the liver and bowels become inactive and costiveness follows as an invariable result, these Lozenges will prove invaluable One individual writes, "I consider myself cured of costiveness, to which I was always subject the moment I left the land solely by the use of your medicine" The proprietor is continually receiving orders from his seafaring friends for the Lozenges When they are to be carried to sea, they ought always to be started from the box in which they are packed and put into tight bottles. In this way they may be kept good for any length of time.

The proprietor offers them as a cure for nervous head ache and general neuralgic affections Very remarkable cures might be published if thought necessary

Mr. Milhan, the agent in New York, writes. "I think it no longer necessary to advertise to the extent, as heretofore, the Lozenges are now well known I am daily receiving the most satisfactory accounts of them, and I shall always recommend them to my customers"

The very questionable reputation which a medicine derives from the fashionable practice of publishing a long list of certificates from persons whom nobody knows has induced the proprietor to forego the opportunity of offering to the public the many commendations which he is daily receiving of those Lozenges trusting rather to their own merits, which will be apparent to all on trial and the respectability of his numerous agents

These Lozenges have been in use for two years the general approbation they have met with from our first families establishes their merits and makes further remarks unnecessary They are packed in boxes which may be carried in the pocket and sold at fifty cents per box

For sale in Bangor, by George W Holden and Whittier & Guild, Eastport, John Beckford Hallowell, Samuel Adams and F Scammon Augusta Tappan & Ladd. Gardiner, A T Perkins. Portland, Joshua Durgin and Artemas Carter,

At the same places as the above, may be had

HARRISON'S PILE REMEDY,

Warranted as specific in all cases

Hæmorrhoids, or the Piles are occasioned by habitual costiveness plethora, hard riding on horse back and not unfrequently by the use of aloetic purgatives. The popular nostrum known as 'Vegetable Pills,' Universal Pills' and the like are highly injurious when taken for a long time being composed chiefly of aloes, which ought never to be taken by persons subject to Piles.

This complaint is not necessarily and of itself immediately dangerous, in fact in some instances it may be considered as a salutary evacuation, especially in plethoric or full blooded persons but when suffered to remain long, it is the cause of many serious and even hazardous diseases

The remedy now offered to the public, is prepared by the undersigned, from the recipe of a highly eminent practitioner in a neighboring city and from the numerous cases absolutely cured by the use of it, he feels warranted in offering it as a specific

It is put up in packages at fifty cents with full directions for use, accompanied by a plain treatise on the disease Prepared and for sale by

J S HARRISON 256 Essex St Salem.

TO THE AFFLICTED!

DR. RICHARDSON'S celebrated SHERRY WINE BITTERS, for the cure of all those prevalent diseases, called Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Billious or Liver Complaints. Dizziness or Headache, Wandering or settled Pains, Sinking Faintness, Nervous Debility, Costiveness, Piles, and all general derangements of health, caused by an unhealthy state of the stomach and bowels, which have been justly styled "the storehouse of disease" These Bitters have proved a certain and speedy remedy They preclude the necessity of using Pills. Dr. R. considers it unnecessary to publish a long list of puffing recommendations upon which the whole merits of many advertised medicines depend

TO CAUTION PURCHASERS.

They are put in Flat Bottles, with the following words blown in the glass, "S O. Richardson Bitters South Reading, Mass.," with a label which covers the cork, and be sure that a fac simile of my signature is upon the label, so that the cork cannot be drawn without destroying it, also a fac simile of my signature upon the outer envelope without which none are GENUINE. The great success of this medicine has induced a number of unprincipled persons to imitate it in various ways Remember his Bitters cannot be obtained of Pedlars on any pretence whatever

P S. BARNARD and W. G. SKINNER, Travelling Agents for the New England States. Prepared from Medicinal Plants and Roots at Richardson's Laboratory Sold Wholesale and Retail at his office No. 15, Hanover street, Boston, and by most Druggists throughout the N. E. States Merchants in the Country can receive them safely packed in boxes, by forwarding an order, and the usual discount will be allowed on the sale. Price 75 cents per bottle. His dry Bitters put up in a pressed form are 50 cents per paper

THURSDAY, JULY 25, 1839.

THE APPOINTING POWER.

The spirit of our republican institutions and government, demands that those holding offices under the government, should be dependent upon the will of the people, whose servants they are, instead of being dependent upon the will of one man. It is neither republican, nor safe, for the gift of offices, or the continuance of them, to be vested in the hands of any single man, so long as the people are qualified to select suitable men to fill them, and to determine upon their continuance in office, by re electing them, or choosing others. In allowing the President of the United States and the Governors of the States to appoint a large number of men to official stations, and to remove them at their pleasure, the people acknowledge that they are not quite ready for self-government, and must keep themselves under guardianship to heads they deem wiser and better than their own. And not only so, but it throws power into the hands of the executive, which may be greatly abused, and the people made to suffer, while the executive is entrenching himself in power. By the executive of this State having at his disposal a host of offices, Governor making has too often been a mere scramble for the spoils of victory in the lesser offices in the State. A host of expectants in every county are encouraged to hope for some office, or, threatened with removal, and are thus compelled to work in the harness of locofocoism, to the destruction of political and moral honesty.

There is no reason why the people, for whose benefit offices are created, for whom they are exercised, and by whom they are paid, should not decide upon who shall fill them. They are better qualified to do this than any one man can be. They know in whom they have confidence, and who will faithfully discharge the duties of their stations. They are more interested in the character and conduct of these men than others with them they must transact their business, and on them rely in some of the most important transactions of life. It is the most independent and republican claim which any man can have in an office the approbation of the people he serves.

These considerations are enough to satisfy us that a very large proportion of the offices in the general Government, States and Counties, now in the gift of the executive, should be immediately transferred to the people, where it properly belongs, and where alone, it is safe. There is not an argument in favor of the people electing any officer, that will not apply with equal force and propriety to the election of almost, if not quite, every officer now appointed by the executive. This principle appears too clear for illustration, especially since we have had so many illustrations of the opposite system in the locofoco rulers.

In monarchies, where power lies in one person, appointments from the highest to the lowest may be expected to come from the monarch, and officers to be removable at his pleasure. In organizing our government, it was thought necessary to retain this power in the hands of the executive, and during the discussion of the question, the great and good Washington filled the executive chair, and all felt that he would not abuse it; while it was distinctly stated by Mr Madison, that if a President should exercise the power when not called for by any public exigency, and merely for personal objects, he would be impeached. But notwithstanding all this, the vote in favor of the existing power, in a case of clear and absolute necessity, and denying its existence every where else, passed in Congress by the casting vote of the Vice President.

Many years passed, and the power, although there was a mistake in granting it, does not appear to have been abused. But with the appearance and growth of locofocoism, the abuse of the appointing power has become the great engine of party success, and used as freely and with as little caution as household words.

Every contemplated change of rulers among the locofoco party, has become a mere requisition for spoils, and he who can manage to get up a nomination, and whip the party into the support of the "regular nomination," considers himself entitled to the best office in the gift of the executive. At the threshhold of the gubernatorial office, different competitors appear, and throng about the executive, and with hungry looks and greedy maw, demand their quid pro quo. The temple of our political institutions becomes filled with [illegible] hunters bold adventurers, and venal sycophants, who recklessly deceive the people by false professions, and bend the pliant knee of party subserviency to the master that feeds them.

Several States have already adopted the principle of making more offices elective by the people with the happiest influences; and we ask now, if it is not time for the people of Maine to look at this matter, and in the selection of their officers to choose those men who are willing to give us a little practical republicanism, instead of the locofoco method of preaching one thing and practicing another of looking one way, while they row in the opposite direction?

We have thus endeavored to show that the appointing power in the hands of the executive does not accord with the spirit of our institutions, and in its effects, is of dangerous tendency.

We think the people should select their officers, because they are most interested in their proving faithful to their trust: because officers thus chosen would be more likely to regard the will and wishes of the people, and be more acceptable to them; because officers so elected would have the strongest motives to a faithful discharge of official duty, for on this alone could they expect a re election; because it would be better for the officer, by securing him a reasonable and definite period in his office, & because it would at once and forever put a stop to the principle of aiding the election of an individual for the purpose of being rewarded, by that same individual, with the gift of monied offices.

The people pay their officers for performing the duties of their offices, and not to electioneer and become heated and dishonest partizans. And any man of sensibility, must feel himself disgraced, who accepts office and pockets its emoluments, for the miserable consideration of what he has done, or may be able to do for the success of party! Eating the people's bread, while he brings the patronage of the government into conflict with the freedom of elections!

To-morrow we shall show up the inconsistency of the locos on this subject.

ARRIVAL OF THE GREAT WESTERN.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT FROM EUROPE!

The steamer Great Western arrived at New York on Monday afternoon, having left Bristol on the 6th; and brings London and Liverpool papers to the 5th of July.

The cotton market was flat and declining. The decline from the 14th to the 21st of June, was one quarter to three eighths; from the 21st to the 28th, one quarter; and from the 28th to July 3d, also one quarter; after the 3d no change.

The Bank directors had under consideration the propriety of raising the rate of interest to six per cent, but adjourned without doing so. Its actual rate of five and a half per cent however, is almost unprecedented and caused much complaint.

A notice from Mr Jaudon is published in the Times of the 29th of June, disclaiming, in the name of the Bank of the United States, all participation in or knowledge of the Cotton Circular, which was published here in the early part of June.

Of political news, the most important is, the commencement of hostilities between Turkey and Egypt; an event which from its liability to involve other powers, is of more importance than might at first be imagined.

The result of this intelligence will be unfavorable here to those who were anxiously looking to Europe for higher prices of cotton and lower prices of money.

From the war in the East, consequences may also result unfavorable to the preservation of the peace of Europe.

France asserts openly, by her Deputies, the necessity of protecting Turkey against Russia, which nation, it is assumed, is stimulating the Egyptians. All parties, M. Berryer, M. Dupin Oddillon Barrot, and the Ministers, were of one accord in voting ten millions of frances, to enable France to do her part in protecting Turkey. The combined fleets of France and England, in the Levant, were very powerful. Whether they will act in harmony remains to be seen.

Captain Walker, who virtually directs all the operations of the Turkish fleet, has been invested by the Sultan with the rank of High Admiral.

It has created some surprise at Constantinople, that the Porte, who has been so poor for some time past, appears suddenly to have enormous sums at his disposal. Long standing arrears have been paid off, and ready money is forthcoming for every thing.

London, Thursday, July 4.

War in the East. We have to announce on the authority of letters of the 12th ult from Constantinople, that the Sultan had not only declared war against Mehemet Ali, but as supreme Caliph of the Faithful and representative of the Prophet, pronounced sentence of excommunication against the Pacha and his son Ibrahim, deposing them from the government of Egypt and Syria. This sentence was pronounced by His Highness on the 9th, the fetvah or bull of malediction being prepared by the grand Mufti, after a grave consultation of the most learned doctors of the Mussulman law. The 4th being Friday, the Mahomedan Sabbath, the sentence of excommunication was to be read in all the Mosques.

The Turkish fleet left the Golden Horn in two divisions. The first sailed on the 8th, and the second on the 9th ultimo. They were to rendezvous at Gallipoli, where 10,000 mariners were waiting to be taken on board, with large quantities of military and other supplies. The fleet consists of thirty-four sail of all sizes, well equipped, and the crew were in high spirits. Previous to the sailing of the second division, the Sultan, though in extremely bad health, went on board the Mahmoudi, the Admirals ship, to say a few words of encouragement to the officers and men, and to give them the benediction of the Prophet. The reception of his Highness was most enthusiastic.

Among the Englishmen on board, were Captains Walker, Conolly, and Lee, the first of whom the Sultan raised to the rank of Rear-Admiral. General Jochmus, a French officer, who served with distinction in Greece and Spain was likewise on board, but though known to be in the confidence of the Sultan, and one of the mainsprings of the expedition, he has declined accepting any recognized rank, choosing to appear as the friend of the Captain Pacha. The Sultan having taken leave of the officers, withdrew amid the roar of artillery. The destination of the fleet was Alexandria, which it was reported in Constantinople, Mehemet Ali had left in a defenceless condition.

The Sultan's final resolution being communicated to the European Ambassadors, an Imperial Firman was prepared, which was to be despatched on the 13th ult. by the Stamboul steamer, to Hafiz Pacha, in which that General is invested with the Pachalics of Syria and Egypt.

Since the above was written, we have received German papers, with letters from Constantinople of the same date as the above. They announce that the Egyptian army in Arabia, under Kirschid Pacha, has entered Bassorah; that Lord Ponsonby declared that the time for tergiversation was past, and that for acting was come at last; and that Admiral Roussin was in the greatest distress, France having assumed something like the protectorship of Mehemet Ali.

On the 24th ult news reached Vienna from Alexandria, to the effect that war had commenced in good earnest in Syria, and that the troops of Ibrahim Pacha fell back from all their positions, fighting as they retreated, so that the Turkish army was encamped in the territory of Mehemet Ali. They likewise state that 5000 Egyptians deserted to Hafiz Pacha, at the first onset. It appears that Ibrahim was not himself present at this engagement, he being at the time at Aleppo; for the instant the news reached him he commanded the division stationed there to advance and meet the enemy in the field.

To have allowed Hafiz to reach Aleppo undisturbed would have been to permit him to be joined by the divisions commanded by the Pachas of Bagdad and Mosul, an error which Ibrahim is too good a general to commit.

England and France must now declare themselves; and if they would prevent Europe from being involved in the blaze of this war, they must act unanimously with good faith. No time is to be lost.

The British Queen left Liverpool on Tuesday the 2d for Portsmouth, and was to sail for New York on the 10th inst.

It was announced on the 4th that Lady Flora Hastings was in a very languid state, and the physicians were without the slightest hope of her recovery, and the London Sun of the 5th announces her death. A victim (we presume from what we see in the papers) to outraged sensibilities.

The accounts of the crops in England are encouraging they will be superabundant.

SCISSORS.

"It is with little souled people as it is with narrow-necked bottles, the less they have in them the more noise they make in pouring out." No less than nine persons were struck by lightning in Newport, R. I., during a recent thunder squall; none of whom were killed. The Great Falls Factories, during the first six months of the present year manufactured 3,749,827 yards cloth. A book-seller in Salem advertises. "New Children's Books." This is somewhat like the man who advertised "Read Children's Stockings Black Men's Leather Gloves Plain Ladies Fur Soles and Mahogany Children's Chairs!" It is stated in the Franklin (Ohio) Republican, that there are three clusters of spots now traversing the left side of the sun, two of which are particularly large, each spot being vividly distinct. Give me some more of your "Scissors to grind," as the editor of the Democrat said, when he lost his Shears. Finn plays his last, to-morrow evening. The knowing ones say it will be a Fin ished performance. The Chinese are said to have conceived a horror and antipathy for the steam-boat, which nothing can conquer; they contend that it is a most "indecent and disgusting" invention. Flour was selling from the boats at Cincinnati, on the 8th inst at 4,25, dull. Wheat 75 cents per bushel. There is in London a shop in which the same business, that of a chemist, has been carried on ever since 1616, a period of 223 years! John Jacob Astor, who has a little property worth about fifteen millions of dollars, has given it as his deliberate opinion, after considerable reflection, that "a man with five hundred thousand dollars is as well off as a rich man." The Advertiser says that Portland was never healthier than now, and that it is as healthy, all in all, as any city in New England. The commencement at Waterville takes place on the 14th of August.

A New Orleans Summer. The editor of the New-Orleans Picayune is a keen one. There is much that is instructive in his paper, and always something amusing He is now congratulating himself on the healthfulness of the season, and the enjoyments of a New Orleans summer. He says that "all is hot and healthy. Doctors are getting out of both practice and patients. Calomel is a drug the only articles in the medicinal way at all lively is soda, with a little sarsaparilla or ginger syrup. They continue as effervescent as ever. The only visitors calling upon us of late, are thunder showers—they are always welcome."

The stock of musquitoes and muskmellons is on the increase, and although the demand for the former is very limited, large transactions are effected. Their bills are always protested, yet still our citizens are obliged to discount very freely, especially those who cannot place a bar upon the applications.

The delicious fruits peculiar to a tropical climate are plenty, brisk and in demand, in fact we know of no articles that go down better than figs, peaches, apples and lemons. In the mean time, the city is getting more roomy and commodious A man can now find a 'Chambre garnie a louer,' or furnish room to let, without ransacking over the whole town. He can now be sure of a seat at one of the hotels without labelling his chair and then fighting for his rights. A walk along the levee in the cool of the evening is now unattended with danger, and the man who chooses can indulge in this cool and healthy prominade without getting his life insured before starting. Purchases can now be made in Chartres street without waiting hour after hour for a turn. Those backless stools, upon which the ladies have whiled away their mornings all winter, are now tenantless in a great measure. You stand some chance at the Post office too, always provided there is no mail, a very scarce commodity by the way. You can now get at the pigeon-hole without finding fifty Smiths, thirty four Thompsons, eighteen Browns, and a score of Jenkins and Simpkins by way of Greens, to impede and obstruct your passage. In summer too, the penance is not imposed upon us of seeing Shakespeare's plays butchered all the murderers have left for the North

A French Paragraph. The following romantic way of stating a simple fact, is from a French paper, and savors strongly of the volatility of that nation:

"An importunate visiter came into a farm house at Ebonlet during a severe storm a few evenings since. Instead of opening the door, he entered by the kitchen chimney, threw on to the hearth two sides of bacon hanging up to smoke, knocked a hole through the wall, and bolted into an adjoining room, where the farmer and his family were at supper. The sudden entrance of an unexpected guest put the party into confusion; little caring for which he was wanton enough to tear up the floor at the feet of the master of the house, unceremoniously made his way to the cupboard, broke divers pots of butter, and melted their contents, split to pieces an iron boiler on a stove, and unceremoniously went out as he came in, through another aparture in the wall of his own making, without, however, insulting any body in the room. Not contented with this, [illegible] ed with wonderful agility into an upper chamber, amused himself with destroying several pieces of furniture, and, at last, having broken through the window, departed like a flash of lightning."

A QUANDARY. A few nights ago, a sailor, pretty considerably "damaged," was picked up in the street by the Charlies, and deposited, for comfort and safe-keeping, in the watch house. The next day it was evident he was not in a suitable state of body or mind to undergo the operation of policeing, and accordingly was handed over to the hospital. After remaining there a day or two, he began gradually to open his eyes, examine his whereabouts, and see if he was here or "else where;" having satisfied himself he was alive, and 'somewhere, he began to experiment with his tongue, and finding that would move, he said he felt better, and should like to be directed to Fulton street; but being told there was no such street in New Bedford, he asked, in great amazement, if he was not in New York? On being informed that he was actually in New Bedford, and no mistake, he "allowed" that according to his reckoning he ought to be in New York, at any rate, for he never left there to his knowledge, and he certainly went over to the city, from the Navy Yard at Brooklyn, to "celebrate Independence," but having got too much by the head, and finding good muddy bottom, he came to anchor. He has no knowledge of anything that transpired except that a Coroner's inquest was called to inquire how he came by his death. He wants to be informed, as soon as convenient, "what the jury brought in," that he may know what is to be done next, for at present he don't know whether he was sent here for dissection, or for a whaleman. New Bedford Register.

The Free and Slave Artist. "In speaking of art in Europe, we made no allusion to Russia, because in that vast empire there has not yet been even an attempt made to form a native school. The count indeed affects to patronize art, but the artists of St. Petersburgh are composed entirely of foreigners. We are not aware that Russia has produced a tolerable painter; nor is it to be expected she will do so, while her people remain ground down under the iron heel of oppression.—The graces and refinements of life are frowned upon by despotism; they are crushed and confined in the strongest bonds that tyranny has ever invented, the bonds of ignorance. How is it possible that a people, feeling themselves to be a race of slaves, mere lumps of clay, or beasts of burthen, destined to 'groan and sweat under a weary life,' can produce poets or painters, or any thing requiring an animating soul?

The painter, as he looks upon nature, feels that he himself is a great and governing part of the magnificent creation he beholds. He looks upon the azure heavens, and the conciousness that the Being who reigns in glory there, hath gifted him with a spark of his own immortal spirit, and hath formed him in his own image, fills him with a high and holy, yet a humble pride His spirit is imbued with images of grandeur, and loveliness, and sublimity; whether wandering in lovely valleys, he rests in pleased contemplation over the consummate hues and tracery of a flower, or gaze upon the rushing cataract, dashing its wreathing foam upon the rocks below, which, Titan like, have braved for centuries the fury of its wrath. Whether he rejoices in the pastoral loveliness of wood and stream, or in the epic grandeur of cloud-capped mountains and the roar of ocean, it matters not: to him all is glorious, for he feels that all was created for him and for his kind.

So looks not the unhappy serf upon creation. The beauty which speaks so thrillingly to the eye and heart of the freemen, is lost to him His soul has nothing kindred with the free divinity of nature, and she spurns him from her bosom, that gracious bosom, which to her true children she unveils with the yearning tenderness of a mother. The being who has inate sense of self-respect and dignity, can be but a drudge, a hewer of wood, and drawer of water; a thing to live, and die, and be forgotten, like the brute that perisheth. And this is but too true a picture of a majority of the Russian people; a vast, overwhelming, unwiedly mass of matter, clumsily kept together by physical force, instead of the nobler agents of mind and soul. Can art, or science, or literature, flourish in such a soul? Never! [Knickerbocker.

"How to make Hogs support themselves," is a new feature in political economy. People may laugh, but this theory has been reduced to practice by Mr. Phinney of Lexington in Middlesex County. The annual amount of the Swine he raises in this way, are valued at about $4000. He makes his Piggery a regular workhouse. They earn their daily bread. The Swine upon his premises are none of your free and easy, indolent sort of gentlemen who lay down to digest their food, and only rise up again to stow away in their bread-basket a new store of provender. Not they. They work. They dig and wallow and root about with their noses. They help the process of decomposition. They aid in producing large quantities of valuable manure, by the efforts of their limbs and their powers of mastication. The litter of the house and barns and materials are thrown into the pig pens. The fresh materials daily given them, excites their ambition to stir about and examine its nature. They never stop till it is investigated, and trodden upon and partially eaten up. This gives them occupation and saves from dispepsia and drives off ennui. This process has various advantages. It makes healthy pork Induces exercise, and expels dullness and prevents mental disorganization. It yields an abundance of excellent manure and the pig thus unconsciously pays for his own fatting. EVANS'S
CAMOMILE AND APERIENT PILLS.
THE DIFFERENCE.

IT cannot be denied that whilst many medicines which are recommended to the public have not even the negative merit of harmlessness there are others which it would be great injustice indeed, and suicidal prejudice to involve untried, in a common condemnation And when a medicine comes endorsed with all the great names that have adorned the annals of the medical profession and warranted by the seal and signature of long and uniform success, its proprietor makes no unreasonable demand upon the public confidence, when he claims for it a superior consideration

The Camomile Preparation by Dr Wm Evans is undeniably entitled to this enviable distinction, for while [illegible] medical authority in existence condemns it, every medical practitioner that is acquainted with it, freely acknowledges its pre-eminent virtues and that the latter should do so in opposition to their personal interests, must be attributed either to their candor and love of truth, or to their unwillingness to fly in the face of all observation, and the testimony of thousands

Dr W Evans does not pretend that his Camomile Tonic Pills will cure all diseases He frankly and conscientiously admits that they will not He lays no claim to the discovery of the "Philosopher's Stone" and wishes nobody to believe that he sells the "Elixir of Life," but he does say and he does believe and he can prove, that in debility and impaired constitution, in Nervous diseases of all kinds, in weakness of the digestive organs, in incipient consumptions, whether of the lungs or the liver, in the dreadful debility occasioned by the use of purgatives, in palsy rheumatism, (more especially) in the sickness incident to mothers and to females of relaxed nerves, in every case of delirium tremens, or that disease which is brought on by intemperance, in the wretched horrors of body and mind which accrue from occasional inebriety, loss of appetite langor melancholy pains in the head limbs or side, in corrupt sallow, and uncomely complexion caused by the bad state of the fluids in all these cases and in others mentioned in the bills of directions given with his medicines HE DOES SAY, that the Camomile Tonic Pills, interchanged occasionally with his Aperient Family Pills, (the best known) which are sold with them, will effect immediate relief, and if used but for a fair period of trial a perfect cure This much is placed beyond a doubt by daily testimonies which would be given on oath and for this much Dr W Evans can conscientiously request confidence He therefore need only add that his Camomile Tonic Pills, together with his excellent Family Aperient Pills can be obtained wholesale or retail at No 7 Division street near Chatham square N York and his authorized agents in town and country

Other and more conclusive demonstrations of the efficacy of Dr Evans' Camomile Preparation and Aperient Medicines are submitted by the following important and extraordinary cures effected by their highly medicinal qualities, all of which may be seen at Dr. Wm Evans' Medical Office No 7, Division street One or two of these he herewith respectfully gives to a discriminating public

Dr Wm Evans Sir, be pleased to receive the thanks of one who has been a great sufferer for several years, for the great benefits she has received from the virtues of your inestimable Camomile Pills [illegible] a lightness across the head, a lightness across the stomach shortness of breath, and palpitation of the heart; exercise would almost overcome her; but since using your Camomile Tonic Pills her complaints are cured she is able to exercise without fatigue and she is happy to say, can enjoy life [illegible]

Newark, July 18, 1838 Dear Sir, for four years I have been so unwell that I was unable to attend to my business, and for the last 4 or 5 months was confined to my room My complaints were [illegible] pains in my stomach indigestion and loss of appetite with continued pain and dizziness in my head, I used different kinds of medicines without effect until I commenced taking your [illegible] Camomile and Aperient Pills; their beneficial effects upon me astonish all who knew my situation In a few days I shall be at your office to express my gratitude to you in person In the mean time I subscribe myself your most obt servt,

Dr. Wm Evans.

Extract of a letter from Jonas Snyder, Postmaster, Knoxville Pa to Dr Wm Evans Among several cases an elderly lady who had been 25 yrs afflicted with nervous hypochondria, debility &c that for the last 3 years she constantly received medical aid from a respectable physician but the pressure and pain on her heart and breast and especially in her left side, remained immovable attended at long intervals with weakness in her head and on her mind keeping her discouraged to undertake any thing In May he commenced using Dr W Evans' Camomile and Family Aperient Pills according to the directions accompanying them A reaction took place; the pains and pressure [illegible] was removed, her mind became clear and strong; her spirit is perfectly good and up to this time is in all respects restored to health, which for the last 10 years she has not enjoyed"

Sept 2, 1836 JONAS SNYDER.

ON LOW SPIRITS Low spirits is a certain state of the mind, accompanied by indigestion, wherein the greatest evils are apprehended upon the slightest grounds, and the worst consequences imagined. Ancient writers supposed this disease to be confined to those particular regions of the abdomen technically called hypochondria which are situated on the right or left side of that cavity, whence comes the name hypochondriasis

SYMPTOMS The common corporeal symptoms are flatulency in the stomach or bowels acrid eructations, costiveness spasmodic pains giddiness, dimness of sight palpitations and often an utter inability of fixing the attention upon any subject of importance, or engaging in any thing that demands vigor or courage Also languidness, the mind becomes irritable, thoughtful desponding melancholy and dejected, accompanied with a total derangement of the nervous system The mental feelings and peculiar train of ideas that haunt the imagination and overwhelm the judgment exhibit an infinite diversity The wisest and best of men are as open to this affliction as the weakest

CAUSES A sedentary life of any kind, especially severe study protracted to a late hour in the night and rarely relieved by social intercourse, or exercise a dissolute habit great excess in eating and drinking the immoderate use of mercury violent purgatives the suppression of some habitual discharge, or long continued eruption, relaxation or debility of one or more important organs within the abdomen, is frequent cause

TREATMENT The principal objects of treatment are to remove indigestion to strengthen the body and to enliven the spirits which may be promoted by exercise early hours regular meals and pleasant conversation The bowels (if costive) being carefully regulated by the occasional use of a mild aperient We know nothing better calculated to obtain this end, than Dr Wm Evans' Aperient Pills—being mild and certain in their operation The bowels being once cleansed, his inestimable Camomile Pills (which are tonic anodyne & anti spasmodic) are an infallible remedy & without dispute have proved a great blessing to the numerous public

Some physicians have recommended a free use of mercury but it should not be resorted to, as in many cases it will greatly aggravate symptoms

LEONARD'S ARITHMETIC—JUST PUBLISHED.

A Practical Treatise on ARITHMETIC, wherein every principle taught, is explained in a simple and obvious manner; containing Numerous Questions, and combining the useful properties of the best works with the modern improvements Being a COMPLETE SYSTEM in one book To which is added a Description of BOOK KEEPING, with numerous Examples for Practice. By GEORGE LEONARD, Jr

THE Work commences in a very simple manner, so as to be completely understood by the most moderate capacity having no previous knowledge of the subject It advances by regular and almost imperceptible gradations, from the easy and obvious, to the more difficult parts, rendering the labors of the scholar agreeable and amusing, and saving the teacher much trouble and vexation The reason of every rule is made evident either by questions which lead the scholar to discover its truth, or by short, simple, and lucid explanations

The articles are arranged in a more natural order than that usually employed, so that the operations in many subjects are performed by merely applying preceding principles, without any new rule As soon as any principle is explained it is often employed in succeeding parts of the work, thereby recalling it fixing it in the mind, and showing its practical application.

There is no superficial or mutilated account of any subject, all that is important concerning it being given, and this is done not only within the bounds usually employed, but often so as to enhance the simplicity of the work

The subject of Book keeping will be found to be treated in a most useful and practical manner, for it contains not only the proper specimens and explanations, but the scholar is required to form a book, and arrange in it transactions which are stated in a promiscuous manner

Copious Questions are placed at the bottom of each page They resemble their appropriate answers in phraseology whereby much time and trouble is saved the learner as well as the instructor

The simplicity of the work the regular gradations by which it proceeds from the easy and obvious parts to those which are more difficult, combined with the numerous questions and the peculiar adaptation to their respective answers, render this Arithmetic superior for the purpose of Self Instruction — It is plain and practical and therefore well fitted for the Farmer and Mechanic No arithmetic contains more that is useful for the merchant or better adapted to his purpose, nor is the mode of reasoning and general plan ill suited to the Scientific or Literary Student

The work is printed in neat Boston school book style on good paper and is well bound

☞ We are very desirous that this Arithmetic should be examined by all interested in Education believing it will be found to be a superior work for Schools Academies, &c and also for Self-Instruction

SEARS' GENUINE VEGETABLE PULMONARY BALSAMIC SYRUP LIVERWORT,

FOR Cure of Consumptions, Coughs and Consumption More than 75,000 Bottles of this very valuable Medicine has been sold (principally in the State of Maine) since it was first offered to the public by the original inventor and proprietor J B Sears a few years since

It is undoubtedly superior to any other article offered to the public, as it seldom fails in giving relief where it is taken in due season.

Although the superior virtues of this medicine are well known and its qualities highly approved by many of the most respectable of the Medical Faculty the following certificates are added for the satisfaction of those who may be afflicted with those diseases for which it is designed, several others may be seen on the bill of directions accompanying each bottle.

The undersigned takes pleasure in mentioning the prompt and essential relief which he experienced in a severe attack on the Lungs in January last from the use of the Vegetable Pulmonary Balsamic Syrup of Liverwort and cheerfully testifies that in his opinion, it is a most beneficial medicine in consumptive complaints violent colds, or settled cough and earnestly recommends this medicine to all who are suffering under afflictions of this kind
